WELLNESS TIP FOR ARTISTS

Take Special Care of Your Eyes. Staring for long periods of time at close range, whether at paper or a screen, can have adverse effects on your eyes and vision. Remember the 20-20-20 rule when it comes to taking eye breaks. Every 20 minutes look 20 feet away for 20 seconds. This gives your eyes a chance to refocus on something further away and essentially stretch out. By doing this you can help prevent any further degeneration of your vision, as well as ward off eye strain, which can in part be caused by focusing on something close up for long periods of time.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

"Creativity is contagious, pass it on"

- Albert Einstein
